14th INTERNATIONAL CONFERENCE

Acute Cardiac Care

Updates & New Emerging Disciplines

19-21 October 2025

HILTON TEL-AVIV ISRAEL

We are pleased to invite you to the 14th International Conference on Acute Cardiac Care which will take place in Tel Aviv on October 19-21, 2025 and to take a prominent space amongst our industry sponsors and exhibition.

This conference, held under the auspices of the ESC Association for Acute Cardiovascular Care (ACVC) and Israeli Heart Association (IHS), has become one of the leading scientific events worldwide on this topic.

During the conference we will cover the contemporary practice of acute coronary syndrome patients, acute heart failure including urgent percutaneous interventions, emergent life-threatening arrhythmias, acute pulmonary embolism, emergency imaging in acute cardiac care and the collaboration with the EMS field crews.

The Acute Cardiac Care 2025 conference is intended for all emergency-cardiac personnel, including emergency medicine, cardiac surgeons, internists, and especially for cardiologists specializing in intensive and acute cardiac care, clinical cardiology, invasive and non-invasive cardiology, as well as intensive and acute cardiac care nurses, and emergency medicine personnel (paramedics and EMT's).

Our rich and encompassing program, which contains lectures, debates and hand-on practice, guided by the leading investigators and clinicians at this field, will ensure the participants a meaningful learning experience.

On behalf of the Organizing Committee we are reaching out to you to support and join us.
